Sue Released 80+ Pounds Living on Maynestreet!

The Cause – Constant Stress

The American lifestyle creates constant stress. From work and family related to airborne and food-related. Our bodies are under pressure all the time.

This constant state of stress on the body makes the hormone cortisol dominant and creates a “cascade effect” that leads to insulin resistance and unbalances multiple hormones that trigger fat storage and other health-related issues. Including high blood pressure, inflammation, digestive issues, poor sleep, headaches, and migraines.... weight gain.

This is a natural occurrence based on human biology.

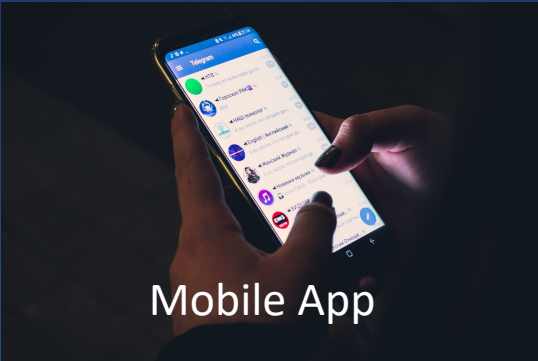

Hormone-balancing is a natural solution that changes how the body deals with constant stress.

What is the hormone-balancing doing?

- Reverses the effects of constant stress on the body
- It resets the cortisol balance
- It removes insulin resistance for weight loss
- It balances multiple hormones that affect weight loss and health
- It benefits both healthy & overweight people.
